In this fascinating interview, world renowned psychic and author Carol Ann Liaros tells readers about Project Blind Awareness where she and others obtained amazing results working with the blind. By using Carol Ann's relaxation, concentration, and meditation techniques, sightless individuals were able to use their latent abilities to feel and become aware of new sensations—right in front of them and at a distance! With the tools and guidance provided by Carol Ann and her volunteers, blind individuals were able to accurately describe and experience psychic impressions, psychokinesis, mind traveling (remote viewing), etc. Carol Ann's research was conducted under controlled experimental conditions and designed and supervised by a team of advisors that included a psychologist, psychophysicologist and medical doctors yet the wonderful outcomes for the blind participants have not yet been widely reported or covered in the general media. This book gives you a glimpse of how the blind can learn "to see" in new ways and shows you the reader how ESP (Extra-Sensory-Perception) works. So, if a blind person without eyes or light perception can learn "to see" with their inner eyes of perception, most likely, so can you!
