Captain Agnes Lindsey has learned she is both pregnant and dying, the unwitting subject of a government eugenics program designed save the human race from extinction. Her passenger list includes a wanted man who boards her vessel under false pretenses, a centuries-old psychic and trouble-magnet and identical twin stowaways with a lethal edge. This tale of refugees, fugitives and renegade pirates is a mythic chase story told in three parts, each taking the reader thousands of years into a future steered by human and planetary evolution. Pursued across land, sea and the hidden landscape of psychic experience, all must fight against the trials and turmoil of both the natural world and the tenacious agents of predatory governments.
